Numb. XCI.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Thurſday, Auguſt 6. to Thurſday, Auguſt 13. 1730.

MOSCOW, March 9.

MENTION having been formerly made, that the Empreſs had ſigned ſome Articles which the Supreme Council had cauſed to be preſented to her, by the Deputies ſent to Mittau; the ſaid Articles purport, as it is ſaid,

I. That her Imperial Majeſty ſhall not govern but in Concert with the ſaid Council.'

II. That ſhe ſhall neither make War nor Peace without the Approbation of the ſaid Council.

III. That ſhe ſhall not raiſe Contributions, or impoſe any Tax, or diſpoſe of any conſiderable Office, but by Conſent of the ſaid Council.

IV. That ſhe ſhall neither condemn nor execute any Lord, unleſs it ſhall appear evidently that he has deſerved the Puniſhment due to his Crime.

V. That ſhe ſhall not confiſcate the Effects of any Gentleman, unleſs he is convicted of the Crime he is accuſed of.

VI. That her Imperial Majeſty ſhall neither diſpoſe of nor alienate the Effects of the Crown, without Conſent of the Supreme Council.

VII. And that ſhe ſhall neither marry nor name a Succeſſor, without the Approbation of the ſaid Council. With ſeveral other reſtrictive Propoſitions.

But yeſterday Morning the Velt Marſhal Truebetzkoy, and the Knez Alexis Czorkasky, Senators, followed by 390 Gentlemen, moſt Part whereof are poſſeſſed of civil or military Offices, went to the Palace to beſeech the Empreſs to hear what they had to repreſent to her. Her Imperial Majeſty gave immediate Notice to the Council, and ordered the Members to repair to the Grand Hall of Audience: She ordered at the ſame Time M. Soltickow, Lieut. Col. of the Guards, to take Care to prevent all Diſorders, upon which he doubled the Guards, and took Poſſeſſion of all the Avenues. As ſoon as the Members of the Council were aſſembled in the Hall of Audience, the Empreſs aſcended the Throne, and ordered the Capt. of the Guard to receive no other Orders but what came from M. Soltickow. This being done, the Velt Marſhal Truebetzkoy entered with all his Retinue, and preſented to the Empreſs a Memorial, containing in Subſtance, 'That as among the Articles which her 'Imperial Majeſty had ſigned, there were di-'vers Things that might be prejudicial to the 'Empire, they pray'd her Imperial Majeſty 'to permit them to re-conſider of the Form 'of the approaching Regency.' The Empreſs granted this, adding, that ſhe deſired they would make a Report to her that Day of the Reſult of their Deliberations; and her Imperial Majeſty cauſed the Members of the Council to ſtay and dine with her; and after Entertainment was over, the Velt Marſhal Truebetzkoy entering with his Retinue into the Hall of Audience, he repreſented to her Majeſty, 'That after a mature Deliberation, they had 'reſolved that Monarchial Government is the 'moſt ſuitable to the Ruſſian Empire, and 'therefore they beſeech'd her Imperial Maje-'ſty to accept of the Sovereignty intire, and 'with the ſame Authority as her Predeceſſors 'had poſſeſſed it.' Upon which the Empreſs anſwered them, 'That her Intention was to 'govern her Subjects in Peace and Juſtice, but 'that as ſhe had ſigned certain Articles, 'ſhe ought to know whether the Members of 'the Council conſented to her accepting the 'Offers of her People.' The Members of the ſaid Council hereupon having ſignified their Conſent, the Empreſs accepted the Sovereignty, and made known to them, by the Grand Chancellor, that the Articles which ſhe had ſigned ſhould be cancelled immediately. Her Imperial Majeſty made afterwards a moſt gracious Speech, declaring, 'That ſhe would be 'a true Mother to her Country; and that ſhe 'would grant all Sorts of Favours to her Sub-'jects.' After which ſhe ſent for General Jagouzinski, and gave him back his Sword and his Order. Her Imperial Majeſty received on this Subject the Congratulations of all the Foreign Miniſters. The Empreſs has ſigned and diſpatched away an Order for the March of 30,000 Men promiſed to the Emperor of the Romans,

Romans, and has named the ſame Regiments as the late Empreſs Katharine had done formerly, which were deſigned as Succours to his Imperial Majeſty, and General Leſley an Iriſhman is to command theſe Troops

PARIS, May 13. From Moſcow it is written, that the Grand Viſier had given the Czarina to underſtand, that the Succour of 30,000 Men, promiſed to the Emperor, gave ſome Umbrage to the Ottoman Port, and that the Grand Seignor would regard their March into Tranſilvania as an Infringment of the Treaty made between his Sublime Highneſs and the late Czar, Peter I.

Our Letters from Copenhagen adviſe, that the Governor of the Fortreſs of Cronenburg had Orders from the King of Denmark to double the Crews of the Veſſels which are cruizing in the Paſſage of the Sound, in order to oblige by Force the Moſcovite Fregats and other Veſſels, which are forthwith expected to paſs that Streight, to ſuffer themſelves to be ſearched, and to pay the Duties which they refuſed to do for ſome Years paſt. They add, that it was reported that the King of Great Britain, and the King of Denmark had renewed the Treaty concluded ſome Years ago between the late King George I. and his Daniſh Majeſty, for the mutual Defence of their Dominions in Germany.

May 20. Monſieur Ranc, a celebrated Painter, who was ſent to Spain by the late Duke of Orleans, to draw the Pictures of their Catholick Majeſties and all the Royal Family, and afterwards went to Lisbon to do the like there, has received a Thouſand Crowns in Gold of the King of Portugal, and a Diamond valued at a Thouſand Crowns, of one of his Majeſty's Brothers.

BERLIN, May 13. On the 9th of this Month the King returned hither from Potſdam, and has ſince had divers Conferences with his Miniſters on the Affairs of the preſent Juncture. The Prince of Beveren is expected here To-morrow with the Prince his eldeſt Son, who, it is ſaid, is to marry the Princeſs Charlotte, third Daughter of his Majeſty. Great Preparations are making for the King's Journey to the Camp of Muhlberg; and it is pretended there will be in his Majeſty's Retinue above 150 Generals and other chief Officers of his Armies; but the Day of his Departure is not yet fixed.

DRESDEN, May 15. On the 13th Inſtant, one of the Rudowski's Tall Grenadiers was hanged here for Deſertion; three others ran the Gantlope for the ſame Crime; and upon Information that ſeveral other Grenadiers of that Body of Troops, and particularly the Polanders, had formed a Conſpiracy to deſert, after their arrival in the Camp, the King has publiſhed a very ſevere Ordinance againſt Deſerters. The Miniſters of State and ſeveral other Perſons of Diſtinction are returned hither from Leipſick Fair, which was very flouriſhing this Year, by reaſon of the great Number of foreign Quality that are come to Saxony, to ſee the Camp of Muhlberg. M. Schonfelſer, Page of the King's Chaiſes, who for his fine Make and graceful Countenance, was pitched upon by his Majeſty to ſerve in the Camp, as Captain of the Janizaries quartered at Bautzen, having ſome Difference the other Day with a Lieutenant of that Corps, they fought a Duel, and the Captain was killed upon the Spot. The Lieutenant, who is a Frenchman, was immediately ſeized; but has ſince made his Eſcape. We have likewiſe received Advice, that M. Arnib, Son to one of the richeſt Gentlemen in Saxony, and Captain in the Service of the Emperor, went about 3 Weeks ago to fight a Duel near Neuremberg, with another Captain of the Imperial Troops, named Le Berger: And that he had the Misfortune to receive a Piſtol Shot, of which he died ſome Days after.

COLOGN, May 19. Laſt Week 5 Ruſſians broke open a Houſe by Night in the Village of Mudderſheim, where they bound the Man of the Houſe and his Wife Hand and Foot, made a great Fire, and laid them down before it, threatening to burn them if they did not diſcover their Money; which when they had done, the whole Sum amounted to 12 Rix-dollars, with which they made off.

HAMBURG, May 19. They write from Petersburg, that an Ordinance was publiſhed there, for the Advancement of their Commerce, by enjoining the Cuſtom-Houſe Officers to be moderate in their Collections of the Duties of Importation and Exportation. They continued ſhipping off a great Number of Iron Cannon, and other Materials of that Sort, for Spain. Two Princes of the Dolgorucki Family being in Diſgrace; and Prince Menzikoff not being dead as was reported, ſome think he may ſurvive his Misfortunes, and return to Court.

LONDON, May 16. His Excellency Signor Galvas, Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Portugal, went hence about a Month ſince to Paris, hoping to find Relief for a dangerous Cancer in his Neck from the French Surgeons; but they having given him over as incurable, he is returned to Calais to embark there for Lisbon. His Secretary is left here to take Care of the Affairs of Portugal.

We hear that on Tueſday Night laſt, at a Lodge held at the Horn Tavern in Weſtminſter, when the Duke of Norfolk, Grand Maſter, Nathaniel Blackerby, Eſq; Deputy Grand Maſter, and other Grand Officers, as alſo the Duke of Richmond, Maſter of the Lodge; Marquis of Beaumont, Lord Mordaunt, Marquis de Queſne, and ſeveral other Perſons of Diſtinction were preſent; the following foreign Noblemen, Francois Louis de Gouffier; Charles Louis, Preſident de Monteſquier; Francis Comte de Sade; as alſo John Campfield, Eſq; William Cowper, of Golden-Square, Eſq; and Capt. John Mercer, were admitted Members of the ancient and honourable Society of Free and Accepted Maſons.

DUBLIN, May 2. On Wednesday last came on in his Majesty's Court of King's Bench, the Trial of Mr. Daniel Kimberly, (who about 3 Months ago was brought over from London in Custody of one of his Majesty's Messengers) for feloniously marrying Bridget Reading, an Heiress, of 12 Years of Age, against her Will and Consent, to one Braddock Mead, and holding her by Force whilst one Mr. Abrose, a degraded Clergyman, read the Ceremony of Marriage, who was also tried with the said Kimberly; and, after a Hearing of 7 Hours, the Jury brought Mr. Kimberly guilty of Felony; but it appearing to the Court that the said Kimberly pretended to be the Father of the Child, the Clergyman was cleared.

BOSTON, July, 27. We have had published here the following congratulatory Poem, lately communicated from London.

To his Excellency Jonathan Belcher, Esq; in London, appointed by His Majesty King George II. to the Government of New-England, and now returning Home.

GO, favourite Man; spread to the Wind thy Sails:
The western Ocean smiles; the eastern Gales
Attend thy Hour. Ten thousand Vows arise
T'ensure for thee the Waves, for thee the Skies,
And waft thee homeward. On thy native Strand
Thy Nation throngs to hail thy Bark to Land.
She sent thee Envoy to secure her Laws
And her lov'd Freedom. Heaven succeeds the Cause,
And makes thee Ruler there. Thy Name unites
Thy Princes Honours and thy Peoples Rights.
Twice has thy Zeal been to thy Sovereign shown
In German Realms, while yet the British Throne
Sigh'd for the House of Brunswick. There thy Knee
Paid its first Debt to future Majesty,
And own'd the Title, e'er the Crown had shed
Its radiant Honours round the Royal Father's Head.
Long has thy Nation lov'd thee; Sage in Youth,
In Manhood nobly bold, and firm to Truth;
Shining in Arts of Peace; yet 'midst a Storm
Skilful t' advise, and vigorous to perform:
Kind to the World, and duteous to the Skies;
Distress and Want to thee direct their Eyes:
Thy Life a publick Good. What heav'nly Ray,
What courteous Spirit pointed out the Way,
To make New-Albion blest, when George the Just Gave up the joyful Nation to thy Trust?
Great George rewards thy Zeal in happy Hour
With a bright Beam of his Imperial Power.
Go, Belcher, go: Assume thy glorious Sway:
Faction expires, and Boston longs t' obey.
Beneath thy Rule may Truth and Vertue spread;
Divine Religion raise aloft her Head,
And deal her Blessings round. Let India hear
That Jesus reigns, and her wild Tribes prepare
For heavenly Joys. Thy Power shall rule by Love;
So reigns our Jesus in his Realms above.
Illustrious Pattern! Let him fix thine Eye,
And guide thy Hand. He from the Worlds on high
Came once an Envoy and return'd a King:
The Sons of Light in Throngs their Homage bring;
While Glory, Life and Joy beneath his Scepter spring.

March 31, 1730. I. Watts.

We hear by the Master of a Brigantine, lately arrived here from Surrinam, That some time before he left that Place, his Mate and two other of his Hands went in their Boat to a Place near where their Vessel lay; upon their returning to the same, the Boat being very deep laden sunk under them, by which the Mate and one other were drowned, but the third was saved.

PHILADELPHIA, August 13.

The following Schedule of the King of Spain has been inserted in the New-York Gazette, by Order of the Governor and Council.

The KING.

WHEREAS there have been repeated Complaints by the English Nation, that Cruizing has been continued in America by my Vessels, against the Crown of Great Britain, as if it was in Time of War, I have Resolved, that all my Vessels shall strictly observe the Order for the Suspension of Arms, dispatch'd the 25th of April last past, in Consequence of what is stipulated by the Preliminaries of the Peace, and the Convention made at the Pardo; and that in conformity thereto, all the Prizes shall be restored which have been taken from the said English Nation in America, since the Arrival at Carthagena the 22d of June, 1728. of the Orders for the Suspension of Arms, dispatch'd in Consequence of the said Treaties and Act of Pardo; and in Default thereof, the just Value of the said Prizes and their Cargoes, according as it legally appeared to have been at the Time they were taken; and also, a Reparation for any further Damage sustained by the Delay, until the Time of Delivery, if it be just, except those Prizes taken on Account of unlawful Trade, in those Places and Limits which are prohibited by the Laws and Treaties of Peace and Commerce: And that all those which have been taken in each respective Territory, since the said Time of the Arrival of the Orders for the Suspension of Arms at Carthagena, in relation to which there shall not have been the said Circumstances of an unlawful Trade, and within the Limits forbidden by the Laws and Articles of Peace and Commerce, shall be punctually restored to the English Nation; and that the Proprietors of such Prizes, which conformably to this Disposition are to be restored, may freely enjoy them and their Effects, and carry them at their Pleasure to their own Ports. This to be performed according to the Rules stipulated in the Treaties of Commerce; and the proper Informations of it,

it, having been thus executed, to be transmitted to me. Therefore I do hereby order the Vice-Roys of Peru and New-Spain, the Governors and Royal Officers of the Ports of those Dominions, that they do strictly and punctually comply with this Determination, giving each of them, so far as concerns his Government, the Orders and Directions which shall be necessary for its most punctual Observance; For this is my Will. Given at Seville the the 14th Day of December, 1729.

I the KING.

D. Joseph Patino.
